

Animal Cruelty Case Investigation

From Start To Finish

Longmont, CO

April 21-23, 2020 8:00 am – 5:00 pm

You have been asking for more and we aim to please – three days of practical application in investigating animal cruelty cases for law enforcement, humane investigators, animal control officers and those teaming with law enforcement agencies to assist with cruelty investigations.

This course covers from the initial complaint through the proper filing of your case with the prosecutor. Students will receive traditional classroom instruction accompanied by daily work processing one of four “cruelty scenes”. Coaches will be assisting through process and investigation with each scene.

Each team will work through investigations and interviews, identifying elements and applying for search warrants, processing their crime scenes, packaging evidence and presenting their finished case to the prosecutor. Prior to attending this class, the student should have a working knowledge of basic complaint investigation, probable cause and search and seizure. In an effort to maintain a small student to instructor ratio this class will be limited to 24 students so don't delay on registrations.

Location Code 3 / Kinsco, 1456 Skyway Drive, Longmont, CO 80504

Instructors Belinda Lewis, MS, CAWA
Matt Lewis, AS, FWPD Detective (retired)

Matt and Belinda have a combined 63 years in law enforcement, field services, cruelty investigations, and scene processing. They have been providing cruelty and forensic photography programming both nationally and internationally for 18 years prior to coming to Code 3. Currently, Belinda is a faculty instructor with Code 3 and Matt is an investigator for The Hoosier Lottery.
