VETERINARY FORENSIC INVESTIGATIONS

Presenter: Jennifer Rainey DVM

This course is intended to give investigators a general introduction to the veterinary forensic sciences. Topics include the role of the forensic veterinarian, the various forms of animal cruelty with case examples, and an overview of the forensic necropsy/postmortem exam. Additionally, there will be discussion on the use of ancillary diagnostics and reports, photography, and videography as methods to further document animal cruelty cases beyond basic report writing. In conclusion, there will be a review of certain types of cases which are difficult to investigate and legally prove.
